VOLUME 27, NUMBER 23

June 9, 2016

A Daily Endeavor

The engineer on the Norwegian-American liner Vistafjord had invited some passengers to visit the ship's bridge. After he explained the operations of the navigational equipment, one of his guests remarked that all the brass gleamed as if it were gold. "How often do you polish it?" the man inquired. "Every day," the engineer replied, "It starts to tarnish the minute you stop polishing it."

The engineer's comment is reminiscent of the self-appraisal made by the great pianist Ignacy Paderewski. Discussing the need for daily practice, he said that if he missed a day, he would notice the difference in his playing. If he missed several days, the critics would notice the difference. If a week went by without practice, the public would notice the difference.

Both the engineer and the pianist echo an emphasis that we find in Scripture about living for God on a daily basis:

- Like David, we should praise and give thanks to God every day (Ps. 145:2).
- Like Daniel, we should pray to God throughout every day (Dan. 6:10; cf. Ps. 88:9; 1 Thess. 5:17).
- Like the early church, we should encourage one another on a daily basis (Acts 2:46; Heb. 3:13).
- Like the Bereans, we should search the Scriptures daily (Acts 17:11; cf. Ps. 1:2).
- Like Paul, we should be willing to put our lives on the line for Jesus every day (1 Cor. 15:31).

Discipleship should obviously be viewed as a daily endeavor. If we want to become more like Christ and if we want our lives to be attractive testimonies for Him, we had better not be sporadic in following Him. After all, the One whom we are following said, "If anyone would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me" (Luke 9:23).

Closing it out...

I love VBS week! At the time of writing this (Monday morning), we have just eclipsed the number of people that we had for Sunday night of last year's VBS! We had 405 people Sunday night! How exciting! I want to quickly give three reasons that I love VBS. There are certainly more than three reasons, but for the sake of space, I'll only share three.

1. VBS brings Pulaski Street together. Our theme for 2016 is "Better Together", and I can't think of an event that epitomizes this very true idea in a better way than VBS does. Jim Donnelly has done a fantastic job organizing VBS over the last couple of years, and he would be the first one to tell you that this is certainly not a one-person job! Over the last several weeks, there have been dozens of people working on various things to get things ready for the week. When there is work to be done, as is the case when it comes to preparing for VBS, we come together, enjoy each other's company, and get the work done. I really like that!

2. VBS gives us an opportunity to meet new people. I am not the best in the world at remembering people's names...that's one of the reasons that I am glad that we use name tags at VBS! But, I really enjoy meeting new people! During the week we will have hundreds of visitors, and several of those will be visiting with us for the first time! The impact that we can have on them during this week is not to be taken lightly! VBS brings people to us that we may not have even known to go to. I really like that.

3. VBS reminds me of what things are most important. Life can get busy. We all have different things going on between work, sports, family, hobbies, etc. We have meetings. We have deadlines. We have appointments. We have chores. In short, we have life to deal with! But, VBS reminds me of the things that need to have more priority given to them: God's Word, and sharing it with others. During the week we will teach truths from the Bible to hundreds of people. I really like that.

There you have it...three reasons that I love VBS. I'm sure most of you will share these sentiments, as well as have other reasons of your own for loving Vacation Bible School. Let's use this spark to continue on with a great summer of sharing the love of God with our neighbors!

Until next time, JEREMY
