I'll Keep On Until They Quit

There once was an older man who went out jogging. He was running around a track that circled the high school football field while the team was conducting their practice. When the football players began running their sprints up and down the field, the man said to himself, "I'll just keep running until they quit." So they ran. And he ran. And they kept on running. So he kept on running,

Finally, in total exhaustion, the man had to stop. When he stopped, an equally exhausted football player walked over to him and said, "Boy, I'm glad you finally stopped, mister. Our coach told us that we had to keep running wind sprints as long as the old guy was jogging!"

It seems to me that we can sometimes find ourselves in a similar kind of situation when it comes to anger and conflict. We have a disagreement with someone and get into an argument. Voices get raised. Neither side wants to be the first to give in, to stop speaking in anger. Everyone has the attitude, "I'll just keep on till they quit." So the other party stays mad. So we stay mad. And on we go, eventually finding ourselves emotionally and even physically exhausted by the ongoing animosity.

Let me challenge you to do something very difficult. The next time you get in an argument, be the first to give in. Be the first to stop the yelling and the name-calling. Be the first to say "I'm sorry." It's the quickest way to stop the vicious cycle.

"A soft answer turns away wrath, but a harsh word stirs up anger" (Proverbs 15:1).

THANK YOU

Eva Garrett is improving. She has an appointment with a hematologist on October 19. Hopefully, she will continue to get better. Thank you for the cards and prayers.
Eva's family

Thank each of you for the lovely cards and notes. I feel it is an honor to be remembered. I will always remember your kindness. Sincerely,
Bertha Shelton

Pulaski Street Church,

Thank you for the throw that was sent in honor of my brother, Carl Davis. I appreciate it so much. It's a comfort to know that we can count on each other through whatever life brings. Thanks.
Frances Chaffin

November 6th – Combined Devotional! Stay after the evening worship service for a time of devotional, fellowship, food, and fun! Special thanks to Sandi Cook and Heather Hammond for organizing the food for this month's combined devotional!

Closing it out...

Some of Scripture is hard to follow! One of those passages, for me, is Romans 12:14-21. Within those verses we find the following admonishments:

1. Bless those who persecute you (12:14).
2. Avoid getting payback (12:17).
3. Get along with everyone (12:18).
4. Leave revenge to God (12:19).
5. Do good to your enemies (12:20).
6. Overcome evil with good (12:21).

Those may be things that you are good at, but I struggle with them quite a bit! I feel like many of us tend to want to take matters into our own hands when others have done us wrong. We will even justify ourselves, trying to make it seem like payback is the right thing to do! And, generally, doing good things for those that have done us wrong is the LAST thing on our minds! But, if we apply ourselves diligently, we can do it! And, with overcoming evil at stake, the rewards are certainly worth the difficulties!

Until next time... Jeremy

PRAYERS ARE REQUESTED
