The Conscience Pile

Since 1935, visitors to the Petrified Forest National Park have been stealing pieces of the wood as a souvenir. Serious attempts have been made to thwart the thieves, including signs, foot patrols, and vehicle inspections, but the thefts have continued to mount. These thefts, however, are not the only thing that has been piling up.

For years, men, women, and even children from all over the world have been returning their stolen "rocks" along with a letter. Over 1,200 letters have been collected to date, and the returned rocks are thrown in what rangers refer to as the "conscience pile."

"I'm returning this rock that belongs to the forest," writes one visitor. "My conscience has bothered me ever since I brought it home." Another visitor writes, "They are beautiful, but I can't enjoy them. They weigh like a ton of bricks on my conscience." One child named Andy writes, "Dear Mr. Ranger, I am so sorry I took this. I am only 5 years old and made a bad mistake."

Several of the conscience-pricked pilferers concluded that the stolen petrified wood had brought them bad luck or had cursed them. One distraught wife writes: "Please put this back so my husband can get well. I tried to keep him from taking it." A terrified daughter writes: "My father took this piece of wood. He didn't have any bad luck or a guilty conscience. However, I had to go to the emergency room here in Las Vegas for a kidney stone. Here is your piece of wood returned before we get on the airplane for our flight back home."

Guilt is powerful thing for those who have a good conscience. Those with good consciences eventually request forgiveness, while making restitution (if possible) and a resolution to refrain from such behavior in the future. A good conscience will excuse you when you've done no wrong and accuse you if you've done wrong (cf. Rom. 2:15). So, how's your conscience? Is it good (1 Tim. 1:5, 19), or has it been seared (1 Tim. 4:2)? Do you have any stolen "wood" or "rocks" that you need to own up to and perhaps give back?

For when I kept silent, my bones wasted away through my groaning all day long.

For day and night your hand was heavy upon me;

my strength was dried up as by the heat of summer.

I acknowledged my sin to you, and I did not cover my iniquity;

I said, "I will confess my transgression to the LORD,"

and you forgave the iniquity of my sin

DEACON ANNOUNCEMENT

JAMES WEEKS has made the decision to step down from his service as a deacon. In addition, James and Betty have decided to place their membership at Summertown Church of Christ. We appreciate James and Betty and their service here. Please read James's thank you note below.

THANK YOU

To the Elders and Congregation,

I would like to thank each of you for allowing me the opportunity to be a deacon at the Pulaski Street Church of Christ. Due to my health problems, which seem to be ongoing, and after much prayer, I have decided it is time for me to resign the office of deacon. We will be moving our membership to Summertown to be with our physical family and to be closer to Maury Regional Hospital if there should ever be a need for me to go there. It will be much closer for us to travel to church and back home. We love you all!

I'd also like to thank everyone for the phone calls, cards, and prayers on my behalf while I have been sick with atrial fibrillation and pneumonia.

In Christian love, James and Betty Weeks

Closing it out...

Those of us who went to the Family Retreat had a great weekend! While we had some who were not able to attend because of sicknesses, we still had our biggest number yet for a Family Retreat! THANK YOU to everyone who attended and helped make the weekend such a success!

Our theme came from the children's television show Paw Patrol, and we discussed how important it is for each of us to do our job to help the body of Christ function properly. Joey Barrier was with us on Saturday, and he did a wonderful job delivering two lessons.

It was also great to have our upcoming summer intern, Daniel Ross, and his girlfriend, Katie Clark, with us. Our teenagers have already fallen in love with them, and I am very excited for what the summer is going to bring as they all continue to grow those relationships!

Finally, I would like to say a special thanks to Sandy Adams for organizing the food for the weekend, helping purchase the food, and making sure that the kitchen was up and running in plenty of time to have all of the meals prepared throughout the weekend. She is awesome!

If you haven't picked up on it, Family Retreat 2020 was awesome! Go ahead and mark your calendars for Family Retreat 2021, March 5-7, 2021. It will once again be at Maywood Christian Camp in Hamilton, AL. Make your plans to be with us!

Until next time...

Jeremy Gargis
