White Like Snow

Job views God as sovereign over the snow (37:22), and God questions Job about whether he has found a way to enter His “storehouses of snow” (38:22). These two thoughts juxtaposed together bring a smile to my face. Though advances in meteorology since the time of Job have attempted to lessen the wonder of wintry weather, I like picturing God among His storehouses of snow, choosing when and where to send snow to the earth.

Over the past week, to use the words of the Psalmist, God has “hurl[ed] down his crystals of ice like crumbs” (Ps. 147:17). On Monday, I opened the front door of my house on several occasions just to listen to the clicking and clacking of those little beads of ice. My children and I involuntarily reached out our hands to catch a few ice crumbs. Before evaporating in our hands, they were cold and white . . . real white.

Though winter storms create treacherous road conditions and skittish drivers, especially here in the South, they do have a way of transforming the landscape in remarkable ways. What once looked gloomy is now luminous. What once looked shabby is now beautiful. What once looked dingy and dirty is now clean.

In Scripture, the Holy Spirit is fond of using this purifying and cleansing effect of snow to help readers picture the dramatic effect that God’s forgiveness of sin has upon a sinner. In reflecting on his sin with Bathsheba, David pleads with God: “Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow” (Ps. 51:7). In calling an estranged Israel back to Himself, God says, “Come now, let us reason together, says the LORD: though your sins are like scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they are red like crimson, they shall become like wool” (Isa. 1:18).

Sin darkens and contaminates our souls; God’s forgiveness of our sins brightens and purifies our souls, enabling us to reflect the radiant holiness of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ (Dan. 7:9; Matt. 28:3; Rev. 1:14). If you desire a soul that is white like the snow or ice that has fallen this past week, Jesus has made that possible, and I can help you get to know Him.

YOUTH NEWS

My girls love headbands. They like these hair accessories because they can mix and match them to go with various outfits. Katie and I like for Penelope and Amelia to wear headbands, but for us, it's about function rather than appearance. Headbands help keep our girls' hair in place and out of their faces. Perception is nice, but function is even better.

Similarly, a Christian's heart is much more valuable than merely "looking like" a Christian on the outside. Sometimes we care more about people's perception of us than we do about who we really are. If we would focus more on our character and conforming it to Christ's, the perceptions would take care of themselves. The function of a Christian, of course, is to pattern oneself after Christ. Again, perception is nice, but function is even better.

Until next time, Jeremy

"GOD and SCIENCE" SEMINAR for Hispanic families

On Saturday, April 24, Dr. Mike Houts, the Nuclear Research Manager at NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center, will be conducting a seminar entitled "God and Science" at Ingram Sowell Elementary School for Hispanic families. There will be a total of four lessons: two sessions before lunch (10:00; 11:00) and two sessions after lunch (1:00; 2:00). Lunch will be provided at noon. Rodolfo has obviously been instrumental in planning and organizing this event.

In order to allow parents to listen to these lessons without distraction, their children will need to be supervised in the gym. If you would like to hang with these kids either before lunch or after lunch, sign-up sheets are now available on both sides of the foyer. For those who plan to get involved, a discussion about Covid-19 protocols and other matters will take place prior to the event.

You may drop your donation off at the church office or give it to Sandy Adams by Sunday, February 28th. If you have any questions, please see Sandy Adams.
